PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- Wizeline (React native software engineer) SEPT 2021 - CURRENTLY
I've used all of my previous knowledge as well as Python and NodeJS for backend development, Jenkins, and Fastlane to automate CI/CD.
I've taught new team members set all of the environment and solved any doubts and issues. I discovered that writing technical documents about the projects is helpful for absolutely everyone in the team.
Here, I'm learning to be guidance for my team.
- Cyberpuerta.mx (React native software engineer) SEPT 2020 - SEPT 2021
Alongside another great developer, I created from scratch to finish the Cyberpuerta.mx app: A technology e-commerce with beautiful UX and UI that allows anyone with Android or iPhone to buy electronics easily.
I was a decisive part of the architecture and technologies we used. Developed a CI/CD strategy and helped engineers getting up to speed with the project. I also helped them with debugging problems and conceptual doubts.
- Wolfcode.mx (React native software engineer) MAY 2020 - SEPT 2020
As a part of a startup I was in charge of different tasks. We started and launched some apps. The most important was a social network for musicians.
Here I learned teamwork, git, and I finally got to professionally practice my academic knowledge. I started using Typescript and fully understood Redux, React, and I also learned project management with Jira.
- Freelance (Full stack software engineer) SEPT 2018 - MAY 2020
I worked for friends and family, then got restaurants and bars as clients, I developed mainly with ReactJS and Wordpress.
